LIGHTHOUSE

Sea, sand, and sky unite, encompassed by gesturing light.

Night is struck at sea by a message in clarity, shining from a lighthouse whose form is a finger.

With a point, definite and warm, a kindly ray, it shall guide the wave-tossed way of those outside.

Even so, an inner part shall Truth forever beckon, the heart.

Rare is the soul which seeks to understand Truth's silent voice, warning of too-close land, or promising a nearing haven.

Yet to find this voice, this port, is merely to yield the mind to that single Truth of light whose brilliant love dares transcend any night.

Life often seems as an endless voyage, Sailing on seas of tranquility and turbulence. Searching, ever searching for a safe, secure harbor. And I've often thought that I'd found that sweet place of contentment and I thought that forever I'd remain in that inlet free from the struggles and tremors of life. But the longer I stayed the less sweet it grew and I longed for the spray of the sea. The waters became too shallow for my yearning heart, too stagnant with the stench of familiarity. My soul yearned to wander to places unknown, my eyes, to feast on the sites of the world. My mind yearned to feed on the essence of life, and my spirit longed so to be free. So I sailed anew to those places unknown seeking beauty, adventure, and love. And I'll stop now and then in a safe sheltered bay to reflect on the treasures I've known. Then I'll hoist up the sails and continue my voyage, ever sailing, ever sailing till I'm home.

It was a year of injuries and attitudes. A year when Nationals seemed faraway. But with determination and hard work The Women's Volleyball Team for the third consecutive year boarded a plane to the NAIA Tournament held this year in Milwaukee. This year's overall record of 28-17 and the bid to the tournament was only achieved through the perserverance of the starters, the bench, and Coach Nancy Detwiler along with assistant Janet Calhoun. Alicia "Pebbles" Thatcher served as the major defensive weapon, able to KABOOM but also ready to dink if necessary. Lynn Norman also contributed at the net as did Holly Clifford, Paula Shaw and Deb Norman. Chris Koska played excellent defense, accurately upping anything hit at her during the season.

Perhaps the greatest spot to be filled this year was that left empty by the awesome setter Kim Cubie. Janet Erbe stepped into fill Kim's position and did a fine job in a difficult situation.

And then there was the bench. Their continued support of the ladies' on the floor as well as their creativity and originality lifted the team in defeat and brought them to victory more than once.

There are a few things the 1985 Women's V-ball Team will be remembered for: sprained ankles, un-talk, palm hats, hula lessons, the P-team, Hoagies, whoopie pies, synchronized clapping, "we're going to McDonald's," "Are we going to eat tonight?", "we're two hours early ... again!"

Deb Norman puts up another hard hit spike.

They used their feet; they used their legs. They used their heads, both literally and figuratively, but the ENC Soccer Team had some bad breaks and close games and ended up with a final record of 4-11-2. However, only three seniors will be graduating this year so there will be many veteran starters including Terry Stark, Mark DeMichael, Silas Almeida, Bill

Webb, and Chris Frye to lead next year's squad. And yet, the great plays of Tim Wooster and Todd Wanner as well as tremendous goaltending of Mike Venna will be missed. With the cooperation and determination of Coach Johnston, new players and the starters next year, victory seems inevitable. That is, if they use their heads.

The Women's Tennis Team, under the direction of Coach Shirley Lange, finished its season with a disappointing record of 1-8. Despite the high number of losses, fine individual performances were turned in by Kim Denby, who although only a sophomore, is ranked number one the the team. The team gained valuable experience for the next year's season. The sportsmanship and spirit of the team were their greatest assets in both defeat and victory. One of the seniors on the team who has participated for four years summed up Women's Tennis with this comment, "At least everyone at the college knows there is a Women's Tennis Team now; when I was a Freshman no one knew we played tennis here."

The ENC Cross Country Team though riddled with the misfortune of only three returners, a hurricane, and a scheduling accident managed to run their way to a better than .500 season (16-14). On the shoulders of Jim Angell, the only senior and four year runner, the team had very good showings at the invitationals. They traveled early to Bryant Rhode Island where they were not officially entered but ran the race anyway. After a grueling 8 kilometer (4.99 mile) run, Jim was fourth and the team was well within the top five teams, but all for not as they rushed home so as to not miss steak night, - with no trophies. This race somehow typifies the role of the lonely cross country runner. Months and often years of training end with a simple handshake and a "Job Well Done," from our first year coach, John Furey. With the Hurricane cancelling the Pop Crowell, Jim and the team missed out on another certain top five finish and another handshake. Yet the team of Todd Elwell, John Cochrane, Dave Whitney, Steve Thomas, and Rob Waltermire complimented Jim well as the team ran at the NAIA District Meet. Jim truly was the Hero that day giving the coach and many of the Gordon runners much to shake their heads about as he finished second trailing right behind the champion. This performance guaranteed Jim another trip to The National Cross Country Meet in Knosha, Wisconsin where the deer and the antelope play. Congratulations Jim! With several key transfers on the sideline this year the team, though without Jim, cannot help but look to next year. In fact, Coach Jidge Furey has been quoted as saying, "Next year we are going all the way!"

With the return of a good group of letter winners from the previous year it was hoped that the Lady Crusaders would have a really good season with the round ball. These high expectations did not come to fruit, however. Barbara Foy, point guard the previous year, had a knee operation and never did fully recover as she had limited playing time. Chris Koska was injured a good part of the season and also played a minimum amount of time. Alicia Thatcher was again the mainstay of the quintet and had some outstanding games. She scored well over 1,000 points during her career at ENC and was one of the most outstanding women athletes ever to wear the Crusader Red.

Newcomers, Sherri Cove and Colleen Houde helped pick up some of the slack on offense. In the 18 game season the women were only on the heavy end of the score three times. -From the Round Table Newsletter.

Finishing the season with a 12-12 (.500) record was a surprise to some people but not completely satisfying to the coaches. Certain weaknesses such as lack of experienced players and bench strength was apparent from the very first workout. However, extensive preseason work on fundamentals and conditioning and the willingness to work hard paid off in the early opponents. As some of the scores indicate - the Crusaders were unable to maintain the edge in some later contests and the above weaknesses cost some games that should have been won.

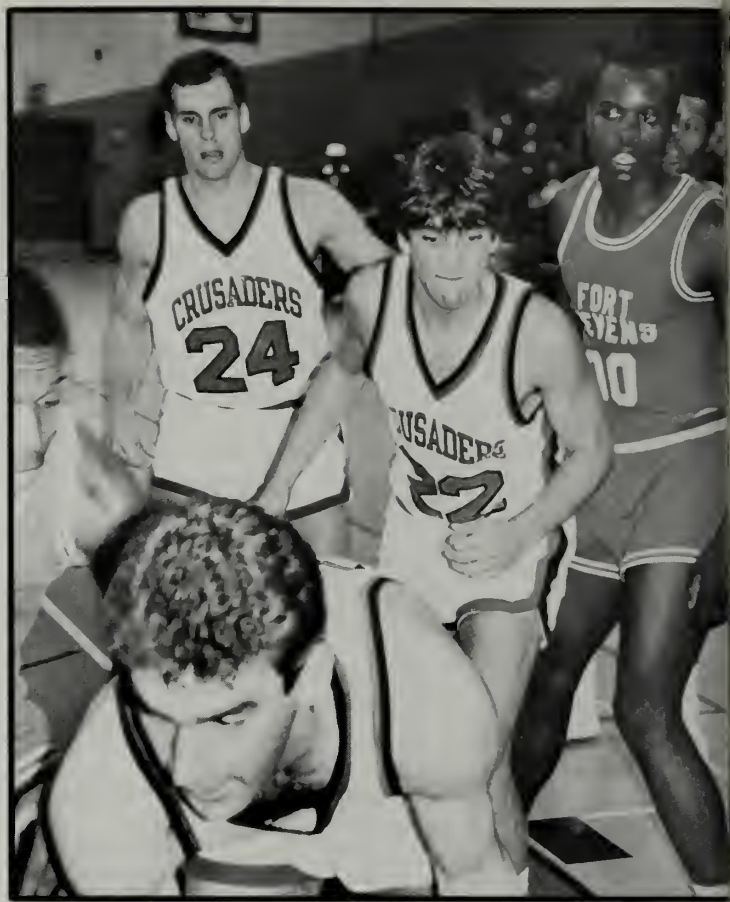

The way the Crusaders lost against a tough, highly ranked Trinity College team was indicative of the way the 1985-86 season went. After playing tough for almost 40 minutes, coming back twice from double digit deficits, the Crusaders lost as Trinity sank a foul line jumper at the buzzer. Five of ENC's twelve losses were by two points and three of these losses occurred at the buzzer!

It should be noted that Mark Millane (Jr.) finished the year with a 26 point per game average and was about 10th place in the nation among NAIA colleges. He also went over the 1,000 point mark about two-thirds of the way through the season. Ray Baltz, Jr. finished out a good year and graduated with Wes Paul and Lowell Tribby. - From the Round Table Newsletter

The E.N.C. Women's Softball Team lead by senior captains Elva Reed and JoAnn Hall, ended the season with 4 wins and 14 losses a record high in the history of E.N.C. softball. Although the record did not end up as well as had been anticipated, it was a growing season providing higher hopes for next year. The team was very young composed mostly of freshmen and sophomores. The added strength of the freshmen provided the team with depth and talent.

Colleen "Head in the Clouds" Houde, affectionately known as "Rudy", dazzled fans with her lightning speed and keen sense of awareness on and off the field. Diane "Simo" Simons battled fiercely with Juile Stiles for the Hustler of the Year Award. Chris "Crash" Connolly and Sherri "Edith" Cove succeeded in "Horrrifying" their opponents using aggressive intimidation techniques such as growling, burping, grunting, frothing at the mouth, gnashing of teeth, and intense verbal abuse. JoAnn Hall, otherwise known as "Lefty" describes her unusual offensive game tactics, "I like to play opposite Edith and Crash, you know, the 'bad guy/good guy trick' like they do on Miami Vice. While Edith and Crash are frothing, burping and intimidating, I play it cool and make friends with the other team. I say things like 'I know aren't they gross' and 'They scare me too, I wish I could play on your team!' Once they start to trust me I dig for their weakness and then Whamo we've got 'em by the pants. It hasn't been totally successful yet, but it's still being perfected." Cheryl "Ziggar" Ziegenfus is expected to take over for Jo next season.

Amy "Double Flip" Dymment repeatedly awed spectators with stunning displays of grace and agility by flying poetically through the air after fly balls and sometimes even grounders. Colleen Houde however, gave her some stiff competition as she performed ballet in right field. When challenged as to why she felt compelled to perform in right field she responded in a whiny little voice, "Well, my mother paid good money for these lessons."

At first base, Connie Heiges baffled players and coaches alike with her homemade full length body net that she used to catch wild throws to the bag.

Seniors that will be missed are pitcher Elva Reed, JoAnn Hall in left field and Connie Heiges at first base. Despite the losing season and the frustrations that went along with it, one thing most of the team agrees on is that they had a good time. They kept their sense of humor, amused themselves and without a doubt amused the teams that they played and most of the umpires.

This year's edition of the Crusader Baseball Team ran into some difficult times. The combination of a young team, (1-Senior, 3-Juniors, 3-Sophomores, 10-Freshmen) with limited pitching experience and a very tough four week schedule did not allow the Crusaders to have a winning season.

However, even with a young squad the Crusaders did have high points. The biggest achievement of the season was gaining a 6-5 victory over a tough MIT squad in Cambridge. Personal achievements were gained by Senior Captain Mike Venna (highest batting average and most stolen bases), Sophomore Scott Cook (most RBI's and most K's by a pitcher) and Karl Zerfoss leading in runs scored.

With this year's experience under their belts, the Crusaders can expect to improve upon their 2-17 season and really look forward to a successful year next season. -From Athletic Banquet Rapup

Although there are many times when a coach will say that a record did not reflect how well they played, it couldn't be truer than for our Men's Tennis Team.

Despite high attrition, little practice, and the worst weather I have seen since I've been coaching, our men have persevered to produce a successful season. Transfer, Donny Woodbridge from Lake City, Florida, stepped into a tough #1 spot left by Barry Schmidt. Freshman, Ron Rieder, emerged with the most successful individual performance posting a 6 win and 3 loss record. Although we will miss Senior Kevin Berry, we look with great anticipation toward next year with the return of the remaining ten member squad. - Coach Marty Trice

ENC — YOUR LIGHTHOUSE!

Members of the Class of 1986 — ENC has been for you a LIGHTHOUSE

- that first beckoned you to come as a member of our great "ENC Family"
- that pointed you toward God's saving and sanctifying power and growth in His living grace
- that motivated you to seek His will for your life's vocation (calling!) and thus made your serious academic efforts an offering to the Lord.

We are glad that you responded to ENC's beckoning light! And, now that you have graduated, we pray that your Alma Mater's light may guide you in service to Christ and others, may often bring you back to this campus in thought and personal presence, and ever inspire you to support your ENC in prayer, in spirit and in giving.

My earnest prayer is that you may — as we sing in our Alma Mater — be:

"True to God and Alma Mater, True to E.N.C."

The goal of this year's council was Servanthood. This council not only provided social events for you to attend, but even more importantly, they made great strides in improving student - administration relations. Many noticeable improvements were made in this endeavor, and they also narrowed the gap considerably between the two groups by keeping communication lines open through the year and holding many meetings with the administration.

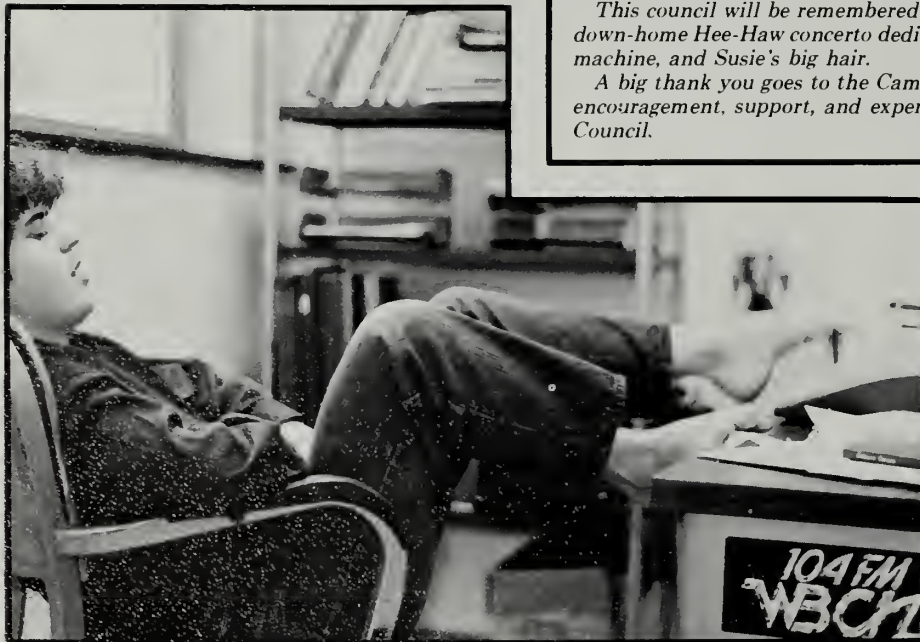

Their year long project was the Nazarene Student Leadership Conference which was hosted by ENC. The student leader representatives from all the other Nazarene colleges gathered here for a long weekend of business meetings, "idea-exchanging" meetings, and a little fun too! The other schools agreed that Boston is a great place to go to college. They had a sensational time and commented that this was the best NSLC ever!

Under this council, Societies were changed to Athletic Clubs. They hoped a change of this type would give new excitement and draw more participation into intramurals. Unfortunately, the growth did not occur.

Homecoming was bigger and better than ever. The theme for the parade was "These Are a Few of My Favorite Things", from the musical, performed by the Communication Arts Department, The Sound of Music.

This council will be remembered for its long hours in the office, its good public relations, their down-home Hee-Haw concerto dedicated to Trevecca Nazarene, broken ping pong balls and change machine, and Susie's big hair.

A big thank you goes to the Camerons, (who make a great duo), for advising the council. Their encouragement, support, and experience were a great asset to this 1985-1986 Executive Student Council.

Student Ministry's main object this year was Compassionate Ministries involving students, community and the mission field. They were very successful in this endeavor. One of their new programs was a Nursing Home Outreach. SMO did some canvassing in New Hampshire and the two groups did a Maine tour and several other concerts. In the community their work involved working with the Quincy Shelter Meal Program and fixing up Fayston House and a housing project under the direction of Christians for Urban Justice.

As a school, Student Ministries, got us involved in two programs. Almost all the dorm floors sponsored-a-child overseas with the donation of their aluminum cans. The second event was World Hunger Week. During this, the Student Body fasted for lunch to raise money. This organization is very important, as their goal of reaching out to build God's Kingdom should be our goal as Christians.

What an unbelievable year! Who would believe how many hours go into each one of these pages. But the friendships we now have and the skills learned make it somehow worthwhile. We started out with such an idealistic yearbook in mind: an imported embossed leather cover, gold numbers on each page, musical endsheets, pop-out art, every page in color and Ansel Adams to do the photography. Then things come back down to earth, when you hear the words of Mr. Bollinger echo in your head. "Budget, Cheryl, remember your Budget!" Somehow the first semester slips by without a dent made in the yearbook, by February you begin to make headway, by April you're drowning in layouts and finally into the summer it's over! (Or is it?) You feel so relieved. Like the Crusade is over, you've made it to the yellow brick road. No more dreaming in layout designs! The lighthouse has guided you finally into port and the voyage is over. (A bit melodramatic, but you get the picture.) Enjoy your 1986, Nautilus.

CAMPUS CAMERA

For the staff of the Campus Camera, the 1984-1985 school year was one of great excitement, thanks to the profound leadership of Editor-in-Chief Peg Paugh. Well, on the way to becoming the most respected organization of Campus, the Campus Camera was proud to have Laurie Mann, religion editor, on the Homecoming Court, and Editor Peg Paugh as a successful candidate on the ballot for Student Body President.

The Campus Camera fulfilled its purpose by bringing controversial issues to the attention of the student body: the problems with security, the EMES concerns, and preparation for Hurricane Gloria. The Campus Camera also brought King's back to Campus, presented the Homecoming Court and informed the students on the complex problems of poverty in a special Christmas issue.

BIBLE QUIZ CLUB

The Business Club was very active this year under the leadership of John. They had many luncheons for the Business Majors featuring local businessmen. Another event they sponsored was the stock market which attracted students as well as faculty. They ended the year with the Annual Business Banquet. The Barbershop Quartet sang at it and then the President of Sears Corporation talked to those in attendance.

One of AMS' more well known accomplishments this year was their popular Homecoming Float. It was a representation of the front of a G.Q. Magazine cover, complete with male models. Other activities included, an escort service and open houses. In the Spring, AMS joined AWS in a community project of planting flowers on Elm Street.

The Associated Women Students had an active year, starting it with the annual Big Sister-Little Sister Party. It gave a chance to show freshmen women they were welcomed by those of the upperclass.

Next, they sponsored the TWIRP auction. As men went up for sale, women made their bids.

In October, AWS sold balloons at Homecoming and won first place for the best decorated car.

Also during the first semester, the women sold fried dough and had a film night, showing the motion picture Pollyanna.

Second semester included an evening watching Star Trek I and II and in the Spring they planted flowers on Elm Street with AMS.

SKI CLUB

Skiing is this club's main focus, so what did they do this year? Skied!!! Each year the Ski Club plans a ski trip during January Break. Before heading to the mountains, they try to raise money in order to defer costs. This year, they had a car wash and bake sale, and both were successful in raising money.

They enjoyed frequent trips to Wachusett Mt. in Massachusetts, but the highlight was their trip to Smuggler's Notch in Vermont. Approximately 60 students attended ... even those who had NEVER hit the slopes.

It's like they say, "It's a tough life being a Chem Major, but somebody's got to do it!"

The Physics Club, or as it's nicknamed The Official Can Collection Agency of ENC, began September 1985 with a "Pool splash" at Dr. Free's. This spectacular event also included, 3-foot subs from D'Angelos, frisbee, and an unbelievable jump through a hula hoop into an ice cold pool by Dr. Free himself (fully clothed and his right mind, wife was not present!) on a dare. December brought their Christmas party and February included a ski trip to Sunapee Mountain. The main attraction on the trip was watching Professor Paul Nyce, Dan Carr, Rob Waltermire, and Mark Ray stumble down the beginner's slope as they learned how to ski. Physics Club "covered all the bases" in May with a 2-0 softball record playing ENC's Women's Softball Team (6-4) and Chem Club (17-5). The Giberson's held a Barbeque for the club for their help on the construction on their new house. Numerous seminars were sponsored throughout the year (and they also lended their expert services in defusing a bomb set to explode and destroy Spangenburg Hall).

Whale Watching began the year for Beta Phi Mu (Biology Club). If the students got past the sickness they had a good day on the high seas! Parties they held included Rollerskating, a Fish Fry, and Christmas Party. During the Winter, BOM went Winter Re-treating. Two of their fundraisers included a Bake Sale and selling Reese's Peanut Butter Cups (food always seems to attract buyers!). With funds left in the treasury they were able to enjoy an Ice Cream Social and have a Christmas party at Brenda Braaten's. NCF also supported Alabaster offerings, and a missionary from India, Carolyn Myatt.

Each year the A Cappella Choir is involved with a number of activities. It is a unique group because not only do those of ENC have a chance to enjoy them, but also those outside of the Quincy area have a chance to see and hear them perform.

They were involved with several concerts, which included their Annual Christmas Chapel, an Epiphany service in January, and several Spring concerts.

Fund raisers included selling: candy, buttons at Festival of Life, and Mother's Day photo greeting cards.

PHYSICS

Dear Mom and Dad,

I guess this wraps up my college life. I've finished my senior seminar: chaos under controlled conditions. Sounds like a cute metaphor for the past few years, huh? After four years with the physics club, it's probably an understatement.

I still can't believe I was elected Athlete of the Year. That is the first time they gave it to a runner. In four years of cross-country it is rewarding to compete nationally and become captain, but it is especially rewarding to be recognized by fellow students.

Or does this sound to much like an acceptance speech? I feel like Miss America. Well anyway, I'm sure that my three years in the ski club had something to do with it. And being a freshmen orientation leader, that really builds character.

There's a lot I will miss at E.N.C. Sitting cans in Schrader, the Physics/Chem clubs softball games, winter camping ... But I'm ready to move on, start living, maybe grow a beard ...

Your loving Son,
Jim

COMMUNICATION ARTS

Dear Janet,

Graduation's almost here. I just got my cap and gown for Junior/Senior Day. Now it is just a matter of time. It will be strange not being an R.A. anymore or running around for Ronda in the name of Communication Arts, but I think I can adjust. It was really nice to get that award "Outstanding Senior in Comm. Arts". It's a wonder they fit it all on the plaque.

After all those drama productions and that two years of endless rehearsal with Living Sacrifice, I'm not sure if I ever want to see a microphone again. Well, at least not for a while.

Probably, I'll always live with the urge to play intramural sports or do the A Cappella Christmas tree formation "just one more time". But right now, I'm thinking mostly about seeing you and heading for Florida.

Love,
Mike

Paugh

Dear Cheryl,

So you need to know about us for your yearbook. I think I like just having to fill out the form and not worry about the rest of it. But I know you'll die if I don't get this to you on time, so here goes:

I began my illustrious career at ENC four years ago. My first endeavor was to join the Bible Quiz Club which I continued with through my sophomore year. I also formed an immediate, long lasting and rewarding affiliation with the Social Work Club.

But I consider four years on the Nautilus staff to have truly shaped my character. As assistant editor in my third year, I even got my own desk and nameplate. It was then that I really knew I had arrived.

As a senior, I returned as photography editor. Still a social worker at heart though, I became R.A. on First Spange. I'm sure they had that task and time with Nautilus in mind when they named me Outstanding Senior in Social Work.

And thus has been completed my dynamic four years as that Virginian who dared not go to Trevecca.

See Y'all,
Becky

SOCIAL WORK

Dear Music Majors of the Future:

I leave this message taped to the underside of a certain piano bench to let someone know that there was once a music ed. major who participated in everything and survived!

I want to assure you that it's possible to spend four years in Concert Band, Music Educators National Conference, and Choral Union, even holding an occasional office. I've also done Jazz Band for a couple years, but you can't spend your life in the Cove.

In my freshmen and sophomore years Varsity Tennis was the answer. But for the next two years I was a freshman orientation leader and an academic tutor. Through all this, I made it out alive.

Take with you then, a bit of encouragement. It seems like forever — 'til it is over in no time at all.

Sincerely,
Lori G. Douglass

SHERYL L. HALL

Dear Schrader,

It all started my freshman year with joining Beta Phi Mu. I guess that's where I really got hooked on biology. Now, after four years, I'm president of the club. And so much has happened in between. Through everything, I've always had the biology club and you, Schrader.

Freshman Class Secretary was a great position to get to know people. And then doing "Annie" and tutoring brought me in touch with even more people. It's the same thing with being a freshmen orientation leader; how else would a junior get to know the freshmen?

All those friendships came in handy when I became 3rd Willy's R.A. in my senior year. But I guess I got nostalgic or something because there I was, back as Senior Class Secretary and in a musical again. I'll always remember the fun we had, tearing out of our "Sound of Music" costumes in time to dress for the Homecoming coronation.

I appreciate that my friends thought enough of me to elect me as a Homecoming Princess. The people at ENC have always been terrific to me. But even so, I'll take a good dog anytime, Schrader, You've been the best.

Love,
Sherrie

BIOLOGY

Dear Sir or Madam:

I will soon become a resident of your city and I hope to pursue a teaching career. My experiences at Eastern Nazarene College have given me diverse preparation, as my resume reveals.

While maintaining a household, I completed my B.S. in Elementary Education. During this time, I was a member of the National Educator's Association.

Aside from education, I developed some refined leadership skills as a freshmen orientation leader in my junior year. As time allowed, my interests and involvement were further developed in my senior year; I was cast in the musical "The Sound of Music". My diversions beyond academics have, I believe, prepared me well for the classroom.

As my husband and I relocate to Nebraska in the Fall, I hope you will consider my experience as an asset to your school district.

Sincerely,

HOOPENGARDENER

Dear Cindy,

I've been sitting here trying to update my resume. It's getting really frustrating. Should I explain the difference between Summer Ministries and Youth-in-Missions? I know my summers with the public relations groups were important experience. But to your average elementary school principal, "Living Sacrifice" sounds like a cult. And "Sweet Adoration" doesn't sound very appropriate for a school teacher either.

I wish I could explain to them everything involved with being Junior Class Vice-President. But it's just something you have to live through to understand. It's the same problem with being on Executive StuCo. Being Director of Social Activities is a job that takes over your life, from planning parades to promoting concerts, to purchasing badminton shuttlecocks. Even so, the title just sounds like the one who buys the chips, doesn't it?

Well, I've decided that I probably won't tell them about being Homecoming Queen. I'll just wear the tiara and robe on the interview

"Respectfully Submitted",

MUSIC EDUCATION

Dear Tim,

We've made it through our college years together. I'm thinking right now about freshman year. My introduction to life as a Music Major: A Cappella, Choral Union, Music Educator's National Conference, and my first Comm. Arts production.

The sophomore year was all of that again and I also became a member of SNEA. And somehow I landed with "Discovery" in Youth-in-Missions that summer.

Of course, by our junior year I realized I needed a change. So instead of Youth-in-Missions I did Summer Ministries with you. I think every engaged couple should have to spend a summer touring teen camps before they're allowed to get married.

Well, the senior year was definitely different. Student teaching and planning a wedding would seem like enough. But on top of all the things I've done since freshman year, I became president of MENC, a member of AOSA, a student rep. on the chapel committee, Homecoming Princess, a freshmen orientation leader and appointed director for SMO's Nursing Home Ministries. It was also that year that I started directing the choir at South Weymouth Church of the Nazarene.

Tim, I didn't realize how much there was till I wrote it all down! I think maybe I'd better lie down and rest awhile.

Love,
Liz

HISTORY/MATHEMATICS

Dear Mom,

Guess what? Beta Phi Mu elected me as Outstanding Senior Biology Major. I couldn't believe it. There are so many outstanding students in Biology anyway ... Being on the Beta Phi Mu council last year though was really special.

I've had a chance to think now about the really different things I've done at E.N.C. and the people I've gotten to know through them. Like when I joined A Cappella in my freshman year. That really expanded me.

And then the next year I also joined the cast of "Annie." That one was a lot of work, but I wouldn't trade it for anything. That same year we started "Sweet Adoration." To be one of those girls traveling for summer ministries was something else. We had a lot of adventures that summer.

It was great preparation for being a freshmen orientation leader in my junior year (not to mention R.A.).

I guess being fourth Munro's R.A. for last two years really stands out. That's provided me some experience and memories I couldn't have found anywhere else.

Looking back on it all, I feel very thankful to have had the opportunity to do it all. Being on the Homecoming Court and winning this award are some of the visible rewards from these few years, but there are so many rewards that can't be recorded or expressed. This has been a time in my life I'll never forget.

Love Ya,
Elma

My Dear Vice-President Bush:

You don't know me, but as far as I can tell, You're apt to be the next President of the United States of America. So it would be a good idea for you to get to know me. I am Judith Laurie Elizabeth Mann, your ideal running mate. Frankly George, you could use someone like me — someone who could give your campaign some panache, some savior faire (or do I mean Laissez faire?).

Let me fill you in on some of the preparation I've had as an undergraduate at Eastern Nazarene College. I've been a history major with something awfully darn close to a math major as well. My education is balanced if my personality falls short of it.

I immediately began as freshmen class V.P. The following year I toured with Youth-in-Mission's Mission to the Cities. I know that sounds like something a Democrat would do, but hey, we have to be stretched, you know? Besides, I could be the first vice president who makes balloon animals and does a Gloria Gaither impression.

I returned for my junior year as a resident assistant, a freshmen orientation leader, the Associated Women Students Vice President, ticket manager for the musical "Annie", and a member of the Campus Camera newspaper staff. Busy, busy, busy. That summer I traveled with a summer ministries camp team for the college. That's right George, more balloon animals.

My college career was finished up, leaving me as a cast member in "The Sound of Music", a member of the Academic Computer Committee, and most importantly, a Senior Editor of the Campus Camera. My position as religion editor developed my writing skills and gave me an outlet for my overwhelming social conscience. And I also shattered a world record for quoting C.S. Lewis.

But George, I've saved the best for last. Here is some P.R. experience you cannot refuse: I was elected as a Homecoming Princess not once George, but twice. I guess people can appreciate a woman who drops her tray in the cafeteria.

I could be wrong, but I think I've got a lot to offer your campaign — I have only one further request: I need weekends off to hit the beach.

Warmest Regards,
Laurie Mann

Dear Brian,

It's probably happening to everyone in the Class of 1986 right now, but I've been going over my experiences in the past four years.

This afternoon when they took my Who's Who picture, it really got me thinking. I don't have to tell you how much I have to reflect on with all the wonderful relationships I've formed at E.N.C.

They took my picture at a piano in the Cove. How appropriate. Do you know that since my freshman year I've held six offices in music organizations? First in MENC, then various offices in A Cappella and Concert Band. And then there was all that time I spent in Choral Union.

When did all this happen? I must not have been paying attention; it just went by so fast.

Student teaching gave me a nice transition to the "real world", but just the same, it'll be strange not living in the Cove anymore.

Bye for now,
Joyce

MUSIC EDUCATION

Dear Ivy League Grad. School Dean,

Greetings!

I'll get right to the point: I really really, really, want to go to your grad. school.

I'd like to briefly outline my background for you at Eastern Nazarene College, a small private academic institution near Boston. I was a history major with emphases in political science and business administration.

My college career began with a membership in the business club and the position of ticket manager for a Spring drama production. I then joined the cast of MacBeth which rounded out my freshman experience.

But wait, there's more: Continuing on with the business club, I was appointed in my sophomore year to the world reknown King's committee as well as the library committee. I also became assistant editor of the yearbook, a position which quickly became a way of life.

I returned the following year as editor-in-chief of that same publication which landed me a position on the Executive Student Council and an appointment to the academic computer committee and several dozen meetings a week. I also acted as a freshmen orientation leader that year.

My senior year again placed me on the Executive Council, this time in the position of Executive Vice President in charge of finances. During this time I served on the President's Long Range Planning Commission and the Trustees Student Services Committee. More meetings than the human mind can comprehend. However this was a time of growth and experience instilled in me a fundamental drive and ambition. Beyond an unusual fondness for quarters, I have gained a sense of direction.

Love and Kisses,
Paul W. Nichols

Dear Dr. Paul:

I am writing an application for admission to your fine graduate program at Eastern Nazarene College.

Briefly, I will recount some of my undergraduate endeavors. As a biology and psychology major I have been active for four years in both the psychology and biology clubs. As a senior, I was awarded as Outstanding Senior in Psychology.

For three years I played varsity basketball and was a member of the Varsity Club for as many years. As a freshman, I was vice-president of this organization.

Throughout the summer of my junior year, I toured with an ENC summer ministries camp team. This experience led me to fully develop my vocal skills and shave my beard.

Upon graduation I was bestowed with the distinction of Outstanding Senior in the Class of 1986.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

Cordially,
Wesley Paul

P.S. Gee Dad, I hope you will let me in!

To the Administrative Council of E.N.C.:

This may be a shock to you, but I'm afraid I'm graduating. My time here studying electrical engineering, physics, and math has been rewarding, but it's time to move on.

No, I don't know who'll be taking pictures now. But I've grown tired of being known as "the guy who always has the camera." I've been photo editor and then assistant editor of the Nautilus. For four years I shot pictures for the Christian Scholar. And I've been printed in the Campus Camera. I've even shot pictures at a semi-formal. There's just nothing left to do.

I put in my two years as a freshmen orientation leader, a year as a "LOFT" tutor and a physics lab assistant.

Honest, it is not that I didn't like my three years in the physics club or traveling with Youth-in-Missions. And I appreciated the opportunity to teach math. But there comes a time in a man's life when he has to don the cap and gown and rustle into the sunset.

Sorry guys, I'll leave some darkroom chemicals for you.

Sincerely,
Greg Ott

Dear Sir:

In response to your request for further information for my graduate school application, I have prepared the enclosed summary of my two years at Eastern Nazarene College.

My majors were French and Communication Arts. In this venue, I served two years as president of the language club and an assistant in the language labs. During this time I was also an academic tutor.

Beyond academic pursuits, I spent both years as a Red Cross volunteer and a feature writer for the Campus Camera student newspaper and wrote various articles for the school's yearbook. My musical interests were also pursued with a membership in the A Cappella choir in my senior year.

Finally, I won the Foreign Language Award at the end of my undergraduate career.

Thank you,
Elizabeth Schuster

Dear Dad,

THANK YOU FOR THE CAR! I really appreciated it. And I know you're happy that I finally settled on a major and graduated with it. Really, I'd been picking up psychology courses throughout school, so in the back of my mind, psychology was always my major.

Besides, pausing at all the other majors led me into some directions I might never have seen otherwise. I had fun my freshman year as a member-at-large on A Cappella's council. And I got into three years of playing basketball and volleyball for Sigma.

Of course, my junior year stint in the Business Club was fun. But being an R.A. for my last two years was something really meaningful. That was a truly challenging and rewarding job.

Fortunately, I managed to off-set all that meaning with a year in the Ski Club. Attribute it to senioritis I guess

Did I mention thanks for the car?

I love you,
Christi

KIMBERLY J. SHEETS

Dear Diary,

I guess with commencement, we commence to live. But there's so much we leave behind.

Living off campus this year, I only found time to keep up my membership in the Business Club. But I will never forget my junior year as a resident assistant on Third Willy and being a freshmen orientation leader. The Business Department Student Interview Committee I may forget. Those wild, zaney times on the academic committee are as good as forgotten.

The little things will always stand out. Like the year of society volleyball, and the Math/Computer Club.

There were so many things that I will always take with me from these four years. I guess with all the time I have had to pack away these memories, I could do worse than to commence.

Goodnight,
Kim

BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION/ACCOUNTING

Dear Sir:

You may be wondering why I, Student Body President of Eastern Nazarene College, am sending you my resume complete with an attractive cover letter.

The answer is simple: I would indeed like to work in your gas station. I feel confident that my past experience has prepared me well for pumping both regular and unleaded gasoline.

You'll note that personal relations are a strength for me. I traveled for two years with summer ministries. First with a singing group, then later with a camp team. My Dudley Dooright impression is excellent. You might also observe that I sing. I found my time in the cast of "Peter Pan" rewarding, and I hope to continue this kind of outreach.

My leadership skills were refined as sophomore class V.P., junior class Student Council Rep., and eventually, Student Body President. I also assumed a leadership role as a freshmen orientation leader. Through these dynamic skills, I hope to progress, moving upward in the Arco family into a full-time career.

I strongly believe that the Comm. Arts/English Lit. majors in my background have set me in a position to fill this job well. I have always been a service oriented person. And I feel led toward full-time service in a full-time service station.

Your Former Fearless Leader,
Jeff Shepardson

SOCIAL WORK

Dear Diary,

The Nautilus needs to know what all I've done at E.N.C. besides eat, sleep, and learn. I would like to know what all I've done — who keeps track of these things, anyway? I know ... The Nautilus.

Four years on the soccer team should figure in there. Along with A Cappella in my freshman year and the brass ensemble for two years after that.

I've been so involved with the social work practicum this year, it almost feels like that's all I have done for the past twenty years. But the opportunities I have had for sharing and ministry have been crucial. That's been the real definition of my time here. There is no experience you could trade for two years as a R.A. And a summer with Youth-in-Mission has had a real impact on me. Now after graduation, I will be on the road again — this time with a summer ministries camp team. It seems like the perfect way to wrap up E.N.C.

— Todd

TIMOTHY T. WOOSTER

CHEMISTRY

Dear Liz,

At last the end is near. I'm beginning to see what you mean about there being so much to look back on. After reviewing everything I can't believe I'm going to start it all over again with grad. school.

But then, I don't know if they have a ski club in North Carolina. Even if they do, I probably wouldn't be president this time. But then being a social chair for the chemistry club was a lot of fun.

My freshman and senior year in A Cappella will be something to reflect upon. Leaping around in "The Odyssey" and flying into walls in "Peter Pan" gave some fun memories. Do you think we can get one of those flying rigs in our house someday?

I'll always remember touring with summer ministries, too. Even getting sick in Pittsburgh seems like fun in retrospect.

But our senior year did have a lot to offer. Okay, so I wasn't a Homecoming Princess like you, but for the fourth time, I played in a Homecoming soccer game. What was really different was being 2nd Memorial's R.A. this year. Amazing. No one was killed. I was pretty lucky; bloodstained hands don't look too good on a transcript.

There were times when it all seemed like too much. But it had a way of paying off. Like with winning the Outstanding Senior Chemistry Award. And with the feeling you get when it all comes to a finish.

We really did make it, didn't we?

Yours,
Tim

College Song

I

God planted thee, we dare to boast,
E.N.C. dear E.N.C.,
On old New England's rock-bound coast,
E.N.C., dear E.N.C.
Oh, ne'er forget the trust He gave!
"My laborers, falter not, be brave;
For I've a world for thee to save,
E.N.C., My E.N.C."

II

Then on our campus let God dwell,
E.N.C., our E.N.C.
Within our halls His praises tell,
E.N.C., our E.N.C.
We'll do thy bidding without fear;
We'll send thy message far and near,
And span His world with heaven's cheer,
E.N.C., dear E.N.C.

III

True sons and daughters on the field,
E.N.C., oh, E.N.C.
A deathless covenant have sealed,
E.N.C., oh, E.N.C.
They pledged thee with a purpose just
Thy standard ne'er to trail in dust.
They'll save God's world and keep thy trust,
E.N.C., God's E.N.C.

ALMA MATER

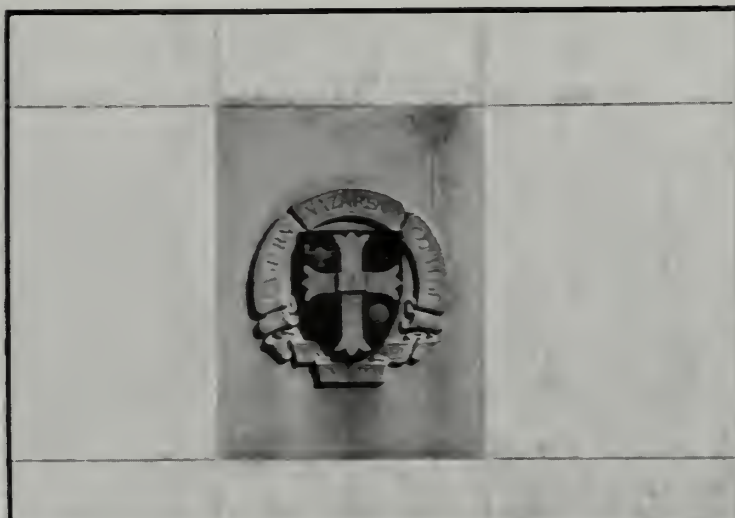

*In New England stands a college
Near blue Quincy Bay,
E.N.C. our Alma Mater
Glorious for aye.*

*Laud her merits, sing her praises,
Let our song ring free.
Hail to thee, our Alma Mater
Hail, O, E.N.C.*

*Graceful branches lifted heavenward,
Suncrowned 'fore our view,
Stand the elms upon our campus,
Reaching to the blue.
Shady walks beneath the foliage,
Flow'ring beauty rare;
Blessed by nature, how we love thee,
Alma Mater fair.*

*Clear her vision, high her purpose,
Lo, she stand serene;
And her faith is sure, undaunted,
Eastern Nazarene.
We will prove our strong devotion,
Loyal we will be;
True to God and Alma Mater,
True to E.N.C.*

-E.S. Mann and William Summerscales

SENIOR CLASS SONG

"ALL I NEEDED TO SAY"

*Sad goodbyes
Never quite got said
Now the time is gone
We're movin' on*

*Even though it hurts so bad
If I could
I'd turn back the days
And I'd love again
To be your friend
In a hundred different ways
But we can't turn back the time, the days*

*So if I never said
All I needed to say
I'll say it now
You know I loved you once
I love you stronger today
Please Lord find me a way
There are words I still need to say
But I don't know how*

*Can't stand still Still I can't move on
Lord I need your strength
Need you and me
'Cause a part of me is gone
In time I'll know
What I've yet to see
That through all the pain
You hurt the same
And you're standing here with me
More than anything it's you I need*

The Class of 1987

A few new additions were in store for the Junior Class Advisor Jan Lanham. The first being E.N.C.'s first all women council. The second being the arrival of Gregory William Lanham in December of 1985.

As usual, the Jr. Class' livelihood revolved around pizza. We sold out every Sunday night — almost! The Class of 87's Pizza Float captured 1st place in the Homecoming Parade. During the Homecoming weekend, a record 600 long stem roses were sold.

Pictures with Santa, candy canes, and survival kits proved to be successful fundraisers in December alone! During Activity Night we held the first Boardwalk in the lobby of the Student Center. Food, games, and a surfing contest ensured everyone of a great time. Festival of Life kept everyone busy selling pizza everynight.

Of course, all the fund raisers were for the Big Event, The Junior/Senior Banquet. The success of this year was due to a few good ideas and a lot of hard work which "paid" off for our class.

When we were freshmen we were told that we had a promising class. This year we lived up to that expectation. We welcomed the Freshmen at their reception, gave them campus tours, wrote them a catchy little song, initiated them (very gently) at BREAKOUT, and fed and entertained them at a banquet held in their honor.

We also ran the first blood drive of the year. By means of a total PR effort and tremendous student participation, our blood drive became the school's most successful.

Then came Homecoming and along with it the second annual parade. We had fun staying up all night and then singing about "Our Favorite Sophomoric Things" on our float. Following the Queen's Coronation we organized a warm reception in Spange Parlor for alumni, friends, and relatives of the court.

The ending to our busy semester was a Christmas Coffee House in Spange Parlor. Those who attended enjoyed a time of fellowship, food, singing, and putting bizarre ornaments on our "very own tree".

In January we produced our own version of "The Dating Game/Newlysteady Game" with Mark DeMichael as emcee. The remainder of the year our main concern was fundraising through our steak-n-cheese selling nights and Valentine Carnations. It was our Lawrence Welk Anniversary Variety Show which enabled us to realize our goal. It was a wonderful, bubbly evening not soon to be forgotten.

Freshmen Class Council always has its work cut out. The members are new not only to college government but to college. This year's council adjusted well and did a fine job organizing such events as blood drives, rollerskating parties, and selling nights. Homecoming, the first major event was a success with much class participation.

The council, consisting of Dave Bergers, President; Julie Stiles, Vice President; Eva Chung, Stuco Representative; Carol Swartz, Secretary; Nina Pape, Treasurer; and Jim Sheets, Chaplain have worked hard to make this year an exciting one for the Class of 1989 and the rest of the school. And despite inexperience and occasional disorganization, they have done exceptionally well.

Registration What A Drag!

It's the ultimate paperchase. The amount of foot work required on Registration Day depends on how well-prepared you, the victim, can be. During two days a year, the workings of that great machine called bureaucracy unfold, (and unfold and unfold) before our incredulous eyes

The worst torture of registration is having your ID mug shot taken. At this point you are so frazzled that you hope the picture won't turn out. At least then you'll have an excuse for how you look, (or don't look!)

Getting that final print-out of your schedule is the best of the foibles of registration --- until you get the bill, of course. In my book, getting through registration is like trying to solve a trig. equation; you know the answer's got to be there — but where??? E. Schuster

SEPTEMBER

For two days already, Hurricane Gloria had blustered up the coast. Thursday night, (September 26, 1986), the campus was electric with panic. Never having experienced a hurricane before, I was eager to find out what was to come.

That evening the air was warm, laced with a south-west wind whose stirring was like the lightest drum roll preluding a crescendo. This breeze, at once caressing and restless, reminded me of the swishing tail of a cat against my arm.

It was fascinating to observe people's diverse reactions. Some just wanted to get it over with. Others could not unroll enough yards of tape on their windows. Despite the many tests for the next day, many students fled for home inland.

By Friday morning the gusts were erratic, tossing about from many directions and murmuring with many voices. Everyone was furious that classes were held first and second period — but I guess the two-day break that followed the weekend made up for it! Lethargic rain drops splattered down all day. Gloria was expected within the hour, but her full arrival was postponed till mid afternoon.

Noisy dorm-mates woke me up from my nap around 4:00. The storm was in full siege. ENC was without electricity by then, as it remained for two days. Spange and Willy had lost their water as well. Shortly after the black-out, our fire alarm went off — Murphy's Law strikes again! We scuttled to the Student Center. The wind puffed at us in hardy gusts like the breath of a giant who has been running.

Though supper was served with the help of candles, we had enough light for comfort. Surprisingly, the sky was not stormy grey, but silvery with radiant energy. That night I gained a fuller appreciation of the shimmering beauty of candle light. The silence imposed by the absence of normal appliances was deeply restful.

In the morning, the sunlight was a poignant antithesis to the debris which it revealed everywhere. Broken trees barred the streets and litter overran the ground, especially near a wall. For the next several days the air buzzed with power saws and shuddered with the scrape of industrious rakes and shovels.

That first night after the hurricane, taking a cold shower, I realized how many luxuries we take for granted. This was one of the many lessons taught to me by Gloria. Despite the worries she caused, Gloria brought us an unexpected break and the winds of adventure.

Nuns At The Naz in The Sound Of Music

Fifteen minutes before the first show we were struggling to maintain a remnant of sanity. Behind us, lie six weeks of practice; before us, 10 preformances in 6 days. The unknown crowd flows in with the inevitability of a tidal wave. The Green Room is electric with excited tension.

Stage and scenery creek with song; our only bridge across that chasm between us and the audience. Ah, to know their mind . . . If we speak well our words, a thin protection indeed, will shield us with glory against the sword of critique. But each time, the final applause proclaimed what we needed to hear; it was our final bugle of approbation for a job well done.

The final chords are silent and our last show is ended. Or is it? Won't we just do another one tomorrow? What time frame are we in, and who are those comrades of the stage? When we remove our costumes, is it ourselves who will appear? Perhaps "reality" will only impose itself at the sound of set strike. -E. Schuster

Campaigning, creating posters and "gimmicks" aren't so bad. It's the speeches. Suddenly, you're standing before the student body (well, most of them). Running against a fellow student, who you most likely see ten times a day. You have to "sell" yourself. And even if you're not running against someone, it's terrifying. The relief comes when the ballots have been counted and the election is done! The relief doesn't last long though, when a moment later you realize your responsibilities.

THE FINAL CHAPTER . . .

Ed

The day started out cold and windy as the flags blew off their stands, but as the Address by John R. Dellenback, President of the Christian College Coalition, came to a close, we had a perfect day for the conferring of degrees. I've never seen so many cameras in one location. Everyone had one. They were so proud of us.

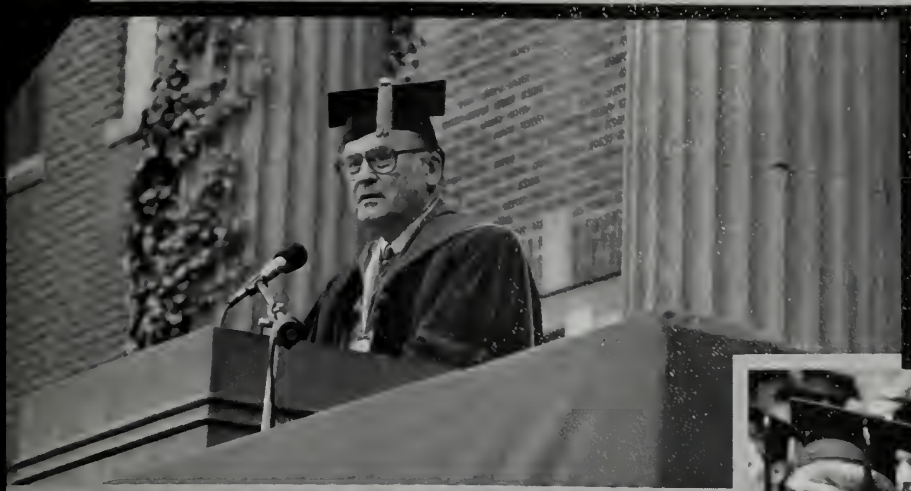

The hardest part would be saying goodbye to all my friends. For the past four years, these people have been an intricate part of my life. I've shared everything with them but they won't be just down the floor now. Some I may never see again.

But there's so much to do and look forward to . . . this book isn't ending . . . no, it's only beginning

A detailed black and white line drawing of a church building. The church has a steep gabled roof with a small steeple on top. The front facade features a central entrance with a door and a window, flanked by two side windows. A large, multi-paned window is on the right side. A small, stylized sunburst or star symbol is visible above the central entrance. Two small figures are standing near the entrance, and a fence runs along the front of the property. The drawing is signed 'AK' in the bottom right corner.

COLOPHON:

The Nautilus is a student publication of Eastern Nazarene College. The 1986 Nautilus, Volume 64 was published by Josten's American Yearbook Company at Topeka, Kansas. The 780 limited edition press run was overseen by Consultant David Gift. Robert L. Murphy was the publisher's representative.

The 1986 Nautilus is on a 9 x 12 inch format with 288 pages printed on 80 pound stippleton paper stock with exceptions the text face is 10 point Century Schoolbook Bold, with captions and outlines in 8 point Century Schoolbook Italic. Base ink color is Black 395, with Tempo 540 Navy used as a second color on the introduction.

The cover was exclusively designed by Karen King in Warm Gray 403 and Black 395. Cover binding is Smyth sewn. Endsheets are Tempo 540 Navy with Snow White 280 overprint.

Senior, non-graduate and faculty portraitures, as well as color and black and white printing and processing were all done by Thornton Studio of 18 West 27th Street, New York, New York 10010.

I hope this yearbook will add to your collection of memories you have from Eastern Nazarene College. Putting together this edition of the yearbook has taught me many things, but most importantly how enriched my college career and life has been by attending a Christian institution. It was difficult at first, because when I came to ENC, a Christian college, I expected everything to run perfectly and when it didn't I became far more critical than I otherwise would have been at any other college. For this attitude I apologize, because what I have gained by coming here far outweighs what I could ever repay.

There are numerous people to thank for helping on the book. My only fear is that I will forget someone. First of all I would like to thank Susan Kinsman, my Assistant Editor, my support system, and someone who has become a very close friend over the year. Without Sue, her knowledge, and talent this yearbook would not have been possible. She always put in more than I asked for. She dedicated her nights, and weekends and summer to the production of this annual, and I appreciate it so much. Sue is an incredible woman! (What an unbelievable summer, Huh, Sue?) My best wishes and prayers will be with her as she serves you again in the position of Nautilus Editor of Volume 65.

I also had a terrific Business Manager, Michelle Bundy, in whom I had the utmost confidence. Not only did she straighten out the books, handle the advertisements, and send out mailings, but she also designed the advertisement section of the yearbook. She is a great friend and co-worker.

My source of information was Paul Nichols. He gave me the best advice, supported me all the way and took a lot of pictures for me. (You're a Super-Duper friend, Paul!)

Travis Pape was a lifesaver this year. He took zillions of pictures and when he was covering an event, I always felt confident we'd get great pictures. (Thanks for all those last minute favors, Travis.)

Karen King designed the cover of the yearbook, the faculty section and the artwork in the book. She, too, gave up many Saturdays to help me out. Her expertise and creativity added much to the staff. Karen did a "smashing" job and will be taking the position of Assistant Editor next year.

I also want to thank my marvelous friend Kim Sheets. She has been with me every step of the way supporting, encouraging, and advising. I feel honored to share such a friendship with her.

Thanks go to Sue Tetrault for her help on writing copy; John "J.B." Marker for the hundreds of pictures he took; Becky for her support and photographic talent; Peg for her friendship, help with copy, and for making me laugh; Mark Hardy for "hitting the pavement" again; and Maureen Johnson for always being willing to do the dirty work and her giving attitude that taught me much. I immensely appreciate everyone who helped with copy, design, layout and encouragement.

Lastly, I give my thanks to my parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geren R. Thomas, and Steven Thomas. They've shown me so much support and love through the year. My life has been enriched by them, and because of that, so has this yearbook.

I am glad I had the opportunity to serve you this year. Best Wishes to all my fellow Classmembers of 1986!!!!!!!

Cheryl Thomas
